Description

Indus 20 Chemical Stripping Machine

The Indus 20 Chemical Stripping machine is designed and assembled in NZ and is used in conjunction with Maxistrip (sold separately) which is undoubtedly the best paint stripper on the market. The drums of Maxistrip sit in the cradle of the machine and the product is pumped up through the hose and gun directly onto the surface. The system is easy to use and is designed for the tradesman specialising in repaint work where full or partial stripping of paint is required that works on lead or non-lead based paints. The system works by the Maxistrip being sprayed onto the weatherboards via the Indus 20 machine, the product being left for 15-30 minutes and then scraped off with a Linbide scraper (or sometimes waterblasted). Machine comes with a 12 month warranty.

Note: The Maxistrip chemical is not included with this machine. It must be purchased separately.
