Description

Festool OF 2200 W Plunge Router Plus

The Festool OF 2200 router offers the most powerful low end torque, highest routing precision, and top ergonomic comfort. Producing a massive 2200 W of power, even routing the thickest, hardest materials is performed to perfection. The double column clamping system guarantees accurate routing height, and all important controls are within easy reach to allow both hands to remain on the machine during use. When used with the side stop or guide rail, the offset guide rods ensure easier routing in difficult materials for long periods. Pair with a Festool Dust Extractor to get up to 99% of all chips extracted during edge routing.
